

Questions from the panel – Please read the sub-questions on pages between 12 and 15 of 'The Guide for Individuals'. Make sure your answers will not be longer than 3,000 words.

1) Your experiences of living in immigration detention, including the context and duration of your stay;

My interaction with the staff at Yarl's Wood has been of great help and support. But the effect overall on myself is worse. The staff is cooperative and tolerance is observed by the staff.
length of detention: 4 and a half months.

2) The conditions in immigration detention, including your ability to access services such as legal advice, healthcare, pastoral support;

Conditions are not suitable for any individual to be in detention. No matter we have access to legal advice, healthcare and pastoral support.

3) Whether there were appropriate mechanisms to deal with any mental, physical or emotional issues you may have experienced prior to or during your time in detention;

There have been mechanisms for dealing with emotional and mental issues, but because immigration detention itself is not a resort to relaxation, so such mechanisms cannot bring

4) Any longer-term impacts of detention on you, your family and/or your wider community;

The longer term impacts of detention on me is that I have become a depression patient. In depression I harm myself and sometimes severely. Finally I get relief by being so.

change to greater extent:

5) Any other information about detention that you would like to share.

NO

6) How far does the current detention system support the needs of vulnerable detainees, including pregnant women, detainees with a disability and young adults?

It is difficult for a normal person to survive in detention. It should be declared unlawful to detain pregnant women and detainees with disabilities. The current detention offers extensive support for such people.

7) There is currently no time limit on immigration detention. In your view what are the impacts (if any) of this?

It does adversely effect the personality of an individual, because such detainees are always under certain immigration threats like deportation.

8) Are the current arrangements for authorizing detention appropriate?

NO - Comments.

9) What are the wider consequences of the current immigration detention system, including any financial and/or social implications?

The amount of money which is being spent in detention centres, that same amount can be utilized in other sustainable plans.

10) How effective are the current UK alternatives to detention (e.g. bail, reporting requirements)? Are viable alternatives to immigration detention in operation in other countries?

In my view alternatives to detention are effective. In this way, people can better access legal aid and can effectively work on their cases.

I don't know about alternatives to immigration detention in other countries.

The staff at Yarl's Wood observes tolerance. Despite being deployed at ~~to~~ a sensitive place, the staff is cooperative, helpful and in many cases like self-harm, are caring, soft-spoken and extend maximum <sup>support</sup> care to ~~that~~ certain individual. They are all the time checking and ~~a~~ inquiring from detainees if they (the detainees) have even missed one meal in a day. The detention system is in itself a horrible threat to detainees. I don't have any complaints regarding the staff because this system is an entity
